

Two evaluation modes answer different questions

Use this when you want to isolate extraction difficulty and avoid mixing it with the rest of the pipeline.

Use this when you want to evaluate the actual agentic system, not just whether the model can read a recovered frame.